WHICH IS RIGHT SIDE UP?

Which system of popular government is right side up, and which is topsy-turvy? Look square at them and see!

Here, for instance, is President Harding appealing for a Republic can congress, so that his administration policies may go on without obstruction. Under our system he is of course right. For another two years we are going to have Republican government whether we want it or not. If we vote for Republican government we will get it, operating well. If we vote for Democratic government we shall still have Republican government, but operating badly. The department of government reflecting the vote of the people will be a mere nuisance, by hampering the adjustment which the people have just repudiated. So the sensible thing is to vote for Republican government, since we are going to have it anyway, even if we want Democratic government.

Quite the contrary in the parliamentary countries. There lack of harmony between the executive and legislative departments is impossible. If the two disagree it is the executive that yields. Either the whole "government" resigns, or (in England) it may call an election and refer it to the people. The election is held, not because a certain calendar date has rolled around, but because there is an issue to settle. The whole way the people vote, that way the government at once goes. The new parliament is in office instantly, and the executive co-operates with it or quits.

Which method is upside down? and under which do the people rule?

GERMAN IN SCHOOLS—Perhaps the State Board of Education was on the safe side deciding to wait for a request from the high schools themselves before resuming the study of German in the high schools, and in refusing to do so on the petition signed by numerous citizens whose names suggested a German rather than an American motive for their desire. But in that case the request should be promptly forthcoming from the high schools.

Even for students not going on to the university, German offers certain educational advantages which the present stampede to Spanish cannot meet.

Spanish is well worth learning—if you learn it. But it is no easy task that the ingenious high school student is tempted to "get by" rather than to learn it.

German, like Latin, he must learn or he "thinks". There ought to be some studies in the high school, and one of them a modern language, that cannot be done at all unless they are done thoroughly.

However, the great educational need is for some studies entering the university already prepared in German. There is much higher work in sciences, philosophy, history, literature and philology that cannot be done without German, and a sufficient working knowledge of German cannot often be acquired in the first two college years. An apt student can do it in two years in French, but not in German.

The present situation is that large numbers of students are entering with preparation in French and Spanish, which could if necessary have been postponed, while none are entering with the German preparation, which must be begun earlier if it is to be used at all.

We can actually foresee a skipped scholastic generation. In perhaps a dozen years we may see a university faculty whose head professors and young instructors all know German, but whose assistant professors of the intervening generation do not know it.

This will happen nowhere else in the world. German study has gone on uninterrupted in England and France and in many American states.

It ought not to be interrupted longer in California. But the reasons for resuming it are American, not German, and it will be more tactful if those who urge it are persons without German antecedents. This is a matter in which it is justifiable to go straight so as to lean backward.

BLAZING VESSEL IN DASH TO CANAL ZONE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The Hawaiian-American line freighter Cardiganshire, bound for San Francisco from Atlantic ports, is making for Colon, Canal Zone, today with a fire on her cargo, according to private cablegrams received here via London.

The fire has done some damage to the cargo, but the extent cannot be determined until the ship reaches Colon, probably some time today, the cable said.

"30" BULLETINS

A. A. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, and G. H. Hecke, director of the state department of agriculture, today fired here the opening guns in what is believed will develop into a state-wide campaign designed to obtain legislation to prevent the shipping of citrus fruits damaged by frost.

Commenting on the state supreme court decision declaring void the standardization act of 1921, both were emphatic in recommending that citrus growers institute measures looking to the enactment of new legislation which would be effective in preventing the shipment of damaged fruit.

JAILED AT SAN PEDRO

Charged with neglect to provide for his family, Leroy Edward Fritsinger was being held here today by the authorities at San Pedro, according to word received here by Sheriff C. E. Jackson, who caused Fritsinger's arrest.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 10.—The state has established a complete case against Clifford Hayes, accused of the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, and is ready to go to trial on the evidence in hand.

Prosecutor A. M. Beckman announced today. This is taken to indicate that the prosecution has evidence that thus far has not been revealed. Pearl Bahmer, 15, was jailed for incommunicability this afternoon, after she had been questioned for hours by officials investigating the Hall-Mills murder case.

Believing that Schneider's story is full of holes, authorities took the boy, who is held as a material witness in Somerville jail, through the third degree.

Schneider charged that Hayes fired four shots into the bodies of two dark figures on the Phillips farm, believing the figures to be those of Pearl Bahmer, 15, his "girl," and her father, Nicholas Bahmer.

Hayes, held on charges of first degree murder, protested his innocence.

Confession Still Secret

"Say," he told interviewers at the jail, "if I killed them do you think I would have stuck around New Brunswick all this time?"

Prosecutors Beckman and Strickler refused to divulge the contents of the 3000 word statement that Schneider is alleged to have signed after he was grilled for twenty-four hours.

The authorities also refused to state whether this "confession" had answered the question of how the threat of Mrs. Mills had been cut and how love letters came to be strewn around the scene of the crime.

Neither was it divulged how the bodies came to be laid out as if by some acquaintance's hand.

Girl Defends Suspect

Pearl Bahmer, the fifteen year old girl with brown eyes and bobbed hair, who has gone through experiences that not many school girls her age have encountered, came to the defense of Hayes.

"Cliff didn't do it," she said. "On the morning of Saturday, September 16," the girl said, "Ray and I met to take a walk. I told him I wanted to go in the direction of De Fussy lane. He said he didn't want to go that way but I finally coaxed him to do it."

"We turned off on the Phillips farm and noticed two persons lying under the trees. He appeared nervous when I said, 'Let's go look at them; it's funny they don't move.'"

"I don't want to go over there," he said, but finally consented.

"There we discovered the bodies of Ray Hall and Mrs. Mills. I know the minister had his watch with him only."

"He only went to a farmhouse to phone the police after I had coaxed him."

G. O. P. Lays Plans To Elect Senate Candidate from Texas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—At conferences held in New York this week, efforts will be made to enlist strong administration support for the move to elect a Republican senator from Texas.

R. B. Creager, Texas political leader and close personal and political friend of President Harding left today for Chicago to urge Senator Medill McCormick, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, to rush speakers into Texas and otherwise aid the candidacy of George Paddy, Republican-coalition candidate against Earle Mayfield who received the Democratic nomination.

Mayfield is being opposed on the ground he is a Ku Klux Klah rather than because he is a Democrat.

MISSING S. A. GIRLS FOUL SEARCHERS

Grief-Stricken Parents Employ Sleuths to Hunt School Lassies

Miss Ladine King, 15, and Miss Helen Erickson, 14, two Santa Ana school girls who disappeared from this city last Wednesday have baffled their parents, the police of Southern California cities and special detectives in Los Angeles.

According to O. E. Erickson, 610 West Second street, father of one of the girls, no trace of them has been had since they skipped light-heartedly from his home Wednesday morning to go to school.

Private detectives have been employed by the parents of the two young women in efforts to ascertain of their whereabouts. Erickson says his daughter had less than $10 with her and that Miss King had about $25, according to the best information the parents can obtain. Miss King, who is the daughter of James King, 805 South Broadway, took some clothing with her. Miss Erickson did not.

Mother Tells Grief

Mrs. Erickson this morning stated that the fact that she would not permit her daughter to attend dances at night, probably was one of the causes for the girls' departing.

"My daughter was attending school and we did not feel that she should be permitted to go out at night at her own pleasure," said Mrs. Erickson this morning. "I am nearly heart-broken because of the action of my little girl. I have always done what I thought was best for her and regret that she has deemed it necessary to run away from home to enjoy pleasures she felt she should be privileged to have while attending school."

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson said that neither of the girls have business experience. Neither is competent to take charge of a household.

Interested in Movies

What kind of employment they may undertake to provide them with funds Mrs. Erickson could not conjecture.

Both girls, Mrs. Erickson said, were deeply interested in movies, and she thought possibly they may seek employment around some of the studios. The Ericksons have no relatives in Southern California to whom the girls might go for assistance.

Erickson intimated this morning that the parents will soon dismiss the private detectives employed to assist in locating the young women.

DEL MONTE, Calif., Oct. 10.—Misleading and fraudulent advertising, including that done by unreliable promoters and "fly-by-night" financiers, was to receive a major part of the attention of today's session of the American Association of Investment bankers in convention here.

James C. Penhagen, of Baltimore, chairman of the committee on fraudulent advertising had prepared a report on the subject, detailing the work the committee has done to eliminate misleading publicity methods. Co-operation of newspapers, the bankers were told, was needed in the campaign against such classes of publicity.

Public service securities, including the rate fixing methods as they affect such securities and the financing of municipally owned public utilities also were discussed.

BAN MURDER THEORY IN MYSTERY DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Death of William Fettesoff, former Russian minister of San Francisco, was due to accident, surgeons declared after an autopsy performed on the body that was found in the wreckage of a car that leaped into the Towing canyon.

Two holes in the man's neck at first believed to have been bullet wounds, were said to have been due to decomposition. Officers said today they had discarded the theory of murder.

CLASH MARKS PLACENTIA TUSSLE

Legal Tilts and Verbal Combat Halt Meeting On Incorporation

In the midst of a brief armistice called today by the Orange county board of supervisors, sitting in judgment on the question of Placentia incorporation, combatants were drawing weapons for another encounter, to take place before the supervisors' meeting, October 23, when, it is hoped, the final decision will be made.

The supervisors meeting this morning was the scene of a heated combat. Legal tilts between Attorney Walter Eden, representing that faction which desired to withdraw a petition for incorporation, and Guss Hagenstein, acting for those who desired to see the board call an election on incorporation, were frequent, with the board members and Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley sitting as referees.

In the heat of the discussion the contest became general, with members of both aggregations joining in verbal argument.

According to Attorney Eden, A. Peirotti and Ben Kramer, who spoke frequently for the one faction, they represent 165 persons who signed the petition for the incorporation of the original Placentia district, but who desire to withdraw their petition in view of the fact that the board, at a meeting several weeks ago, cut the boundaries of this district.

According to this faction, the district proposed by the board, would include only property valued at $1,441,655, this fact causing a high tax rate, they claimed.

Hagenstein, George Holmes, A. Ipsen and M. Bielefeld spoke for the portion of the population which desired an election based on the incorporation plan of the district as outlined by the board previously.

Disagreement resulted when attempts were made to describe two mass meetings in Placentia during the past month.

In executive session, the board found itself unable to decide whether to call an election. Consequently it was moved that each faction be allowed to circulate petitions, to be filed with the county clerk before October 20, and to be presented to the board at the following meeting, October 24.

On the result of these petition campaigns, will rest the decision of the board, it was stated.

COPPER KING PASSES AWAY IN ENGLAND

American Capitalist, Director in Big Concerns, Dies Suddenly In Southampton Hospital.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 10.—Isaac Guggenheim, American copper magnate and one of the wealthiest capitalists in the United States, died suddenly at a local hospital today.

Guggenheim was 68 years of age, having been born in Philadelphia July 7, 1854.

He has made his home in New York City for years.

The magnate was a director of the following corporations: Mexican Union Railway, American Smelting and Refining company, American Smelter Securities company, Yukon Gold company and a member of the firm of Guggenheim Brothers, 120 Broadway, New York.

Over-subscription of the loan, asked for refunding of part of the national debt, by $1,000,000,000, to $2,000,000,000 was assured today by applications for hundreds of millions rolled into the New York financial district banks from coffers of "American business."

The quota was over-subscribed in a few hours.

Secretary Mellon's call for the loan has disclosed a supply of available money in the United States exceeding "even the dreams of financial leaders" it was disclosed at the federal reserve bank here.

A few hours after the project was made public and before institutions in the rest of the country could get their telegraphic applications filed, one New York bank had asked for half of the amount, another bank asked for $55,000,000 and combinations of others requested amounts ranging from hundreds of thousands to $200,000,000.

Promotion of the loan at this time was a master stroke by Secretary Mellon, all bankers pointed out. Banks, corporations, and individuals who have been holding back money to see which way the vane of business would point, regard indications as favorable.

Significant of the money supply was the favorableness with which bankers regarded the terms of the loan. In "inflated times" the interest, on the basis of time, would have been regarded in many quarters as low.

RETURN VERDICT IN CYCLE CRASH DEATH

Peritonitis, caused by injuries received in an automobile accident, was given as the cause of the death of Refugio Elias, in a verdict made public today by a jury under Coroner C. D. Brown.

Elias died Sunday at the Community hospital, as a result of injuries which he sustained when he was thrown from his motorcycle near El Modena a week before.

Clinton Imes was foreman of the jury.

Guy and Mary Schumann were married here seven years ago. For the last four years Guy has been traveling in hope of recovering his health.

His brother, Walter Guy, was killed in an auto crash at Santa Ana, Calif., several months ago.

NATIONAL LOAN BARES GREAT U. S. RICHES

(United Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Billions of dollars of surplus investment money in the United States, pressing an unprecedented business revival, were disclosed today as the result of the government's call for a 34 year loan of a half billion dollars at 4 1/4 per cent.

Over-subscription of the loan, asked for refunding of part of the national debt, by $1,000,000,000, to $2,000,000,000 was assured today by applications for hundreds of millions rolled into the New York financial district banks from coffers of "American business."

LABOR LEADERS JOIN IN ATTACK ON PREMIER

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Lloyd George's critics are giving him no peace in the crisis.

Labor today had joined a widespread demand among opposition parties that the premier resign. Resolutions calling for immediate resignation of the government and election of a new parliament were adopted by a joint council, representing trades congresses and the labor party.

The situation in the Near East furnishes a useful lever for evicting Lloyd George, his enemies believe. Independent Liberals and Unionist "die-hards" started the attack.

The prime minister is not saying anything. It was announced he will issue a statement on the Near East after hearing directly from General Harington. Lloyd George's defense of his policies regarding the Turkish trouble will be made in a public speech.

FUMES BLOCK SEARCH FOR MISSING MINER

JACKSON, Calif., Oct. 10.—Search for the body of William Fessel, who died with forty-six other men in the Arzonaut mine, has been temporarily abandoned because of gas and water in the lower levels of the Arzonaut.

When fire again flamed up in the Arzonaut, bulkheads had to be replaced in the shaft. This has caused a new accumulation of gases. Water has now risen to the 4500 foot level in the mine, and is being pumped off through the opening made into the Kennedy mine by rescue crews.

NEWSPAPER MAN SAYS UNCOLORED NEWS LIKE CORPSE

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Uncolored news is a myth, the equivalent of a breathing corpse, Carl Sandburg, author and newspaperman, told the Medill McCormick School of Journalism of Northwestern university in an address.

"Neither historians, poets, artists, nor news writers can live and grow without passions, prejudices," he said. He added that newspaper writing of today is more vital, direct and straightforward than ever before. "There is no standing definition of news. The thing called news is as elusive as the thing called art or poetry."

1500 DELEGATES IN I. O. O. F. GATHERING

(United Press Leased Wire)

MODESTO, Calif., Oct. 10.—When the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows went into secret session at 10 a. m. today to nominate officers, chief interest centered in the selection of a grand junior warden to succeed R. J. McDowell of Arcata, who moves up.

The first formal ceremony of the encampment came at 8 a. m. with the flag raising while the cantons stood at present arms in brigade formation.

Major General C. H. Kornbeck, commanding the Patriarchs Militant, said this is the biggest gathering of this branch of I. O. O. F. in the history of the order in California. They are encamped at Camp Kornbeck in Etna Park. About four hundred delegates are present.

In all some 1500 Odd Fellows are in the city.

LABOR TIE-UPS FAIL TO HALT INDUSTRIES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Widespread increase of production of American industries during August, the critical month of rail and coal strikes, was reported in a statement issued by the department of commerce today.

"In almost every industry there was not only an increase over the production for the previous month," stated the report, "but, in a majority of cases, the August production was the highest in many months, and often the best record since the depression at the end of 1920. Moreover, this record was accomplished in the most critical month of the coal and railroad strikes."

The increase, the report added, had been generally felt through the entire industrial community and not confined to specific business. Factory employment also, said the report, appears to be the highest since 1920.

With the rise of business activity, however, there has been a partial slump in agriculture. Of this tendency the department said:

"Prices of agricultural products have declined while minerals and manufactured articles have shown a tendency to rise. The bountiful harvests expected this year have tended to depress agricultural prices, while the increased demand for manufactured products, after two years of curtailed production and deliveries from stocks on hand, has put industry on a sound basis."

COUNCIL TO GET SEWER PLANS

CITY ASKED TO JUST LUNCH STANDS

Declaring that lunch stands operated on various vacant lots on the downtown business streets are a fire and health menace, and unfair competitors, owners of several restaurants in the city today were awaiting action of the city council on their protest against continuation of the sitting places, filed with the council last night. The protest and the conditions complained of were referred to the council as a committee of the whole for investigation and for a report at next Monday evening's session.

Roland Thompson, attorney who appeared for the protesters, said that investigation would disclose unpleasant odors arising from the lunch wagons, due to the fact that they do not have sewer connection. He asserted that they were unsanitary and were being operated in direct violation of the state and city laws.

W. W. Chandler, deputy health officer, said that it is true that the places have no sewer connection, and that dishwater is thrown on the ground near where the stands are maintained. It was pointed out, however, that such places are permitted in Los Angeles and virtually all cities of Southern California.

Among the signers of the petition were A. L. Bryant, L. C. Drake and B. L. Clapp.

Delay In Arrival of Special Paint Delays Stalls Marking

Repainting of parking stalls within the restricted district will be done just as soon as special paint needed for the work arrives.

This information was brought out at the meeting of the city council last night, following the reading of a request from the directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association that the work be done.

Mayor Mitchell announced that Edward Dahl, street superintendent, has started men on the work but the progress was being delayed because an order of paint had failed to arrive.

The material is expected in a few days, when repainting will be rushed in order to eliminate conditions of which merchants complain.

NUMBER OF REPORTS ON INCOME INCREASE

According to a report sent to Washington yesterday by Collector Rex Goodell, the Los Angeles district has collected $26,009,593.45 in income taxes since January 1.

The figures show that 190,330 separate income returns were filed as against 156,531 for the corresponding period of last year, an increase of 34,399 returns. Since January of this year 156,521 personal returns for incomes of less than $5000 have been filed. This is more than the total number of all classes of returns filed last year.

Collector Goodell, in pointing out that 34,399 more returns were filed in 1922 than in 1921, said that last year one person in every eight filed a return and that applying this ratio the increased number of returns called for a growth in population of 275,192.

Frank L. Andrews, an ex-Pomona man, is a student in Berkeley this year. Andrews writes to friends in Pomona that university work is interesting, but not more so than is the life in the college.

Warren Messing, Walton Finn, Bill Stafford, Ferris Scott, and Nelson Griffith are among the freshmen who are out for football this year. Coach Nixon, the celebrated "all-round" coach of Southern California, says that the incoming freshmen show promising football material. ## White-of-Egg in Calumet a Vital Element Most Baking Powders Lack Don't use a leavener that does not contain white-of-egg. When you do you take chances—you run the risk of spoiling your bakings.

CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

contains a small amount of white-of-egg. This makes it possible for representatives of the company to test it frequently for leavening strength—right on the dealer's counter. Nothing but absolutely fresh stock is permitted to remain on the dealers' shelves. It must always be up to the high Calumet standard.

Remember the white-of-egg in Calumet protects the success of your bakings. It is the economical positive bake-day aid and its sale is 2½ times as much as that of any other brand.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

JOINT SESSION OF BOARDS IS TO BE HELD

With the city council at its meeting here last night informed that plans and specifications were scheduled to be completed today or tomorrow for construction of the outfall sewer proposed to be constructed by Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, members of the three councils were apprised today of the possibility of a joint meeting Thursday evening to approve the plans, and authorize advertising for bids.

Whether the meeting will be held Thursday evening or some evening next week will depend on whether Clyde Bishop, special counsel in charge of the legal proceedings, will be in Santa Ana that evening.

The city of Santa Ana will reciprocate the courtesy of Fullerton in supplying a band for the Armistice day parade in this city last year by sending the Santa Ana band to that city for the coming celebration. The council last night employed the Santa Ana band, consisting of twenty-two pieces, for $165. Employment was made through C. C. Langley, in case the services of the band are not required at Fullerton all day a musical program will be given at Birch park, this city, in the afternoon.

Permits Are Given

Permission was granted the J. G. Robertson Electric company to hang an electric sign at 102 South Main street; Roehm and Sylvester to remove a gasoline tank from their present location to their new building on East Fourth street; and the boy scout troop of the Modern Woodmen of America to erect a cabin on city property on West Walnut street, formerly used as a public camping ground.

Protest of property owners on South Main street to the establishment of a shoe repair shop at 501 South Main, was referred to Councilman J. W. Tubbs, W. A. Greenleaf and H. H. Dale for investigation.

The era of paving continuing, the city water and sewer departments are getting deeper and deeper in debt in providing water mains and sewers to take care of proposed improvements, a report said. Petitions came in last night, for paving an alley between First and Cypress streets from Pine to Chestnut streets, with five inch concrete; Myrtle street, from Flower to Parton; McClay street from First to Fourth; Hickey from Garney to Flower, and Flower from Hickory to Washington, all to be five-inch work and done under the 1911 improvement and 1915 bond acts. Walter Wray, sewer and water superintendent, said that the city should have a fund of at least $100,000 to take care of work necessitated by reason of the street work developing.

Completion of the paving contract from Broadway east to Santiago street was recognized with official acceptance of the work. B. R. Ford was the contractor.

Piano Pupils Heard In Pleasing Recital

Presenting nearly a score of his pupils in a recital late last week, J. Jones gave a pleasant afternoon to an interested audience gathered at his Garden Grove studio, which was filled with choice flowers sent by numerous friends.

Nearly half a hundred persons were present, including parents of many of the pupils appearing on the program. Mrs. Prindle opened the afternoon by speaking a few appreciative words of the methods of teaching employed by Mr. Jones and the rapid progress made by his pupils.

The recital was followed by the serving of delicious cookies with fruit punch by Mrs. Jones assisted by a few friends, after which prizes won by various pupils were distributed, the judge having great difficulty in selecting the best players.

In one keenly contested event, choice lay between the Misses Catherine Noble and June Slater, Miss Slater receiving first and Miss Noble second prize. In one featuring the Misses Onetta Ames, Alberta Turner and Alberta Baker, Onetta Ames took first and Alberta Turner second. Other prizes were won by Everard Stovall, Fay McCall, Lucille Radford, and Ellen Isoma.

Pupils presented in the recital included Onetta Ames, Alberta Turner, Alberta Baker, Lucille Radford, Catherine Noble, Leola Nelson, Eunice Prindle, Martha Wallingford, Mary Blakeman, Phyllis Day, Fay McCall, Ellen Isom, Ellen Shackleford, Ellen Morgan, June Slater, Everard Stovall and Alice Allen.

Creative Arts Members Spirited to Nippon By Clever Speaker

Interest in the new Creative Arts club is certain to receive further stimulus, were such a thing needed, if such meetings as that of last night continue to be a part of the winter's program.

The pleasant Gustlin home on North Main street was the rendezvous of the club and the presence of Miss Evelyn Nunn served as a magnet to draw the members. There was a complete absence of formality and Miss Nunn offered none of the mannerisms of a lecturer—she just sat and talked. But as she talked, the pleasant home with its Colonial atmosphere and its copies of the Bud Masters, faded away and one was surrounded by the paper shoji or cottage partitions of Japan. There were no eucalyptus trees or swaying peppers without, but a splendor of cherry blossoms and lavender wisteria. It was truly an evening of charm and the music, literature and art of Nippon was discussed by one who had come close to the heart of things during her connection with a missionary school.

Even political situations were touched upon and when Miss Nunn with her silver voice declared "Why when there was so much agitation about the possibility of war between our country and Japan, who were there and knew conditions, laughed at the idea! Japan is so over-taxed now that war would be an actual impossibility for her even should she desire it. That, as it happens, is the farthest from her desire."

Miss Nunn spoke with equal knowledge and fluency on matters of general interest in Korea, in China and in various countries of the Orient and Occident which she visited as she made her leisurely way home, and her hearers showed her with questions regarding the different countries. The next meeting of the club will be Thursday night, November 2 and will present an evening of music under the direction of Mr. Gustlin and Earl Fraser. Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin will again extend the hospitality of their home. In order to meet the convenience of a number of members who could not be present Tuesday nights it was definitely decided to meet henceforth on the first and third Thursday night of each month.

Special guests last night included in addition to the guest of honor Miss Nunn, Mrs. W. A. Griffith, and the Misses Margaret May and Margaret Sortor. Members present to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin, were Miss Beulah May, Miss Doris Hutchins, Miss Hazel Benus, Mrs. A. L. Sortor, Mrs. B. D. Peterson, Eleanor Young Elliott and W. A. Griffith.

Delphian Society

BETA CLASS

Eastern Star

Members of Hermosa and Santa Ana chapters, O. E. S. were happily reminiscent today over the hospitable manner in which the chapter at Yorba Linda entertained them last night.

Invitations had been extended the two local chapters, at their latest meetings and there were nearly twenty-five acceptances.

The guests were joined at Yorba Linda by representatives of Lyre chapter of Whittier who were also included in the invitation, and upon reaching Yorba Linda's chapter room, found a warm welcome awaiting them, with plans for the affair largely in the hands of Mrs. Carrie J. Drake, Yorba Linda's first matron, and chairman of the program committee.

Mrs. Fanny Madison, worthy matron and Worthy Patron Knight received the guests who were entertained by a program of music, both vocal and instrumental and readings. This was followed by cards and dancing and at a late hour, avocado and chicken sandwiches and coffee were served.

Mrs. Walter Cornelius, worthy matron of Hermosa chapter, her worthy patron, Mr. John Harvey, Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg, worthy matron of Santa Ana chapter, and Mr. James T. Carter, worthy patron, with their respective families were among the Santa Anans enjoying the evening.

Garden Party Plans

Sponsored by the Ladies' Guild and the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah, the garden party planned for Thursday, October 19, at the home of Mrs. E. V. S. Pomeroy, 718 South Broadway, promises to be a delightful affair. Guests will be welcomed between the hours of 2 and 5 and members and friends of the church are anticipating the pretty autumnal event.

Week-end Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. George Martin Caskey, Master Chester Foss and Lawrence Caskey, all of Alhambra, have returned to their home in this city after a pleasant week-end visit with their uncle, George M. Caskey, 1026 North Parton street. Sunday morning as a delightful before-breakfast experience, the guests were taken to Lemon Heights with a glance at Hewes park as they returned with appetites sharpened by the early ride.

Sunday afternoon was spent at Balboa and the visitors returned yesterday to their home, thoroughly pleased with Santa Ana and the surrounding country.

For 2 1/2 years, since we started in business here, we have been steadily working for a better appreciation of better books in the home.

We resolutely turn a deaf ear to everything except that which SHOULD be read—we've kept a step ahead at all times of the growing Appreciation in Santa Ana for better books.

And how happy we are that we must carry a stock three times as large as formerly to stimulate the movement.

HARVARD, YALE MAY GRAB GRID HONORS

Old Eli Scheduled to Meet Iowa, 1921 Conference Champs, Saturday

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—For the present year at least Eastern football seems to have returned the glory of Harvard and Yale. The two ancient members of the "big three" have started on another season that should produce a fairly established title for one of them.

Princeton, badly wrecked by graduation and house cleaning, hasn't the bright prospects of her fellow members of the trio that used to rule the gridiron of the East without dispute.

Pennsylvania, Penn State, Cornell, Dartmouth, Syracuse and the Army and Navy have a fairly smooth course laid out in front of them.

Every coach in the East is working at the development of drop kickers and the present season may bring out one of the greatest arrays of booting stars in history.

As the Western conference does not get under way for another week, it is hard to forecast what the Middle West will develop. Next Saturday's game between Yale and Iowa, the conference champions of 1921, will give a good line on both teams, as it is the first important game of the season.

INJURED YALE STARS OUT OF IOWA BATTLE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 10.—

Yale started practice today for the game with University of Iowa next Saturday with three first string men, George Beckett, Charley O'Hearn and Eddie Bench, absent from the squad. Beckett suffered a broken bone in one hand in the North Carolina game Saturday and Bench twisted a knee. O'Hearn has been out of the game with a pulled tendon. It is believed O'Hearn may be able to play for a short time Saturday, but Beckett and Bench are expected to be out for more than two weeks.

RAIN HALTS CHICAGO CITY SERIES FRACAS

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Rain again postponed the city baseball series yesterday. The Cubs and Sox have won a game apiece in the series and hope to be able to determine who's who before snow flies.

REPRIMAND AWAITED BY CARD OFFICIALS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 10.—Stanford university authorities expect to receive some time this week the "reprimand" which the Pacific Coast conference decided Saturday to give the university because a football game was scheduled for December 30 between Stanford and Pittsburg. The game, it was said, might conflict with an East-West game to be held under conference auspices at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day.

Student leaders today said, unofficially, that if the reprimand was not too harsh Stanford would not withdraw from the conference.

SEALS, TIGERS OPEN FINAL FLAG DRIVES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—This week will decide whether Vernon or San Francisco will finish as pennant winner in the coast league race for baseball honors. Rain today greeted the first game of the final series for the Seals scheduled to be played here with Oakland as an opponent while more encouraging weather reports came from Los Angeles, where Vernon and the Angels will do their fighting.

The Seals go into the concluding series with a two game lead over Vernon, for which many thanks may be due to the Oaks who trimmed the Vernonite five out of seven games last week.

GRID CLEATS

The Santa Ana grid glutted smiles that smile of fat satisfaction this week. The chief cooks have placed before him morsels rich and rare from the football menu. And there is enough food to last a month.

The city's educated youth opened a five-game week this afternoon at Poly field when Coach Bill Cole's second stringers hooked up with Coach Ray Walker's Huntington Beach high school first stringers. The game was to have been called at 3 o'clock.

Coach Ed Hummel and his Junior collegians will offer the entertainment tomorrow afternoon when they line up against Whittier college here.

The fact that Friday is the 13th doesn't worry the Santa Ana 130-pound team. That organization will clash with Whittier High's 130-pounders here that afternoon. The first league battle of the season for "Spud" Morrison's cohorts makes the week a serious one for the grid followers. The Poly aggregation goes to Whittier Saturday to meet the Posts. The 110-pound teams of the two schools will furnish the curtain raiser excitement.

The Poly second stringers have shown lots of class during the few times they have been seen in real action this year. They clashed with Huntington Beach high school at the beach city a week ago and held the first string outfit at bay.

Coach Cole was scheduled to send his men on the field this afternoon in the following order: Brown, re; Steele, rt; Kidder, rg; Mitchell, c; Robertson, lg; Oglesby, lt; Doerr, le; Golden, q; Smith, rh; Natland, lb; Lacey, f.

The traditional Santa Ana-Fullerton football melee, the "big game" for both institutions, is less than two weeks in the offing.

And both big chiefs in the rival camps are getting curious—to know a little of what the other fellow has penned up behind his fence.

When Coach Stewart S. "Shorty" Smith, the big noise in football at Fullerton, led his charges against Huntington Park high school last Friday afternoon, Mr. Marvin Morrison and a few of his Santa Ana henchmen occupied conspicuous places in the gallery. And when Santa Ana lined up with Manual Arts here last Saturday, Mr. Smith and his Fullerton stalwarts, were spotted sitting in the middle of the grandstand.

Coach Morrison has a couple of good men out there of his Poly squad who are putting up a real battle for the center position. Bruce Stillens has started every game to date but he is being pushed all the time by this big boy, Eddie Linsenhard.

Both Stillens and Linsenhard are big and rangy and are fighters. They both broke into the Manual contest and loomed up as being about fifty-fifty. Those two gentlemen have been bringing strands of hair back to "Spud" Morrison's head.

Earl Jabs, Poly's husky fullback, doesn't have a broken nose and barring accidents between now and next Saturday the big fellow will start the conflict with Whittier high school.

Jabs sustained a painful cut on his nose in the Manual Arts affair last Saturday and Coach Morrison sent him from the game.

A Los Angeles paper today printed a story to the effect that Sid Foster, Manual Arts coach, was just about crazy last Saturday night after his squad had been trimmed by Santa Ana. The article went on to say, "Saturday he took the Tollers to Santa Ana and came back with one less game to their credit. Despite the fact that Sid only played his second-string men he believed that they should make more of a showing than the Santa Ana Bearcats allowed them to."

Maybe, Foster did use his second stringers. Maybe, he didn't. At any rate, the Manual chieftain kept rushing in substitute after substitute during the course of the game and he started the men who have started every game the team has played this season.

OPEN SEAT SALE FOR TROJAN-BEAR BATTLE

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—General tickets for the California-U. S. C. football classic, October 28, at Pasadena, were on sale at all sporting goods stores here this morning. Tickets can be ordered through the mail by enclosing a check with order to Mr. Wilson at the graduate manager's office at the University of Southern California.

The new Pasadena stadium, where the game will be staged, has a seating capacity of 46,000 and 23,000 tickets have been sold to date. The rest will be open to the general public at $3 for box seats and $2 for all others.

ALLEGED DISTURBERS OF CHURCH MEETING TO FACE COURT HERE

Justice Leo Goepfer was scheduled to sit in high judgment over Jose Rebera, and his companions, the Doe boys, Richard, John, James and the rest of them, at 2 p. m. today.

The object of the gathering there was to determine whether these men disturbed the peace of a church service, in session September 11 at Talbert.

Specifically, the complaint alleged that Rebera and the Does, later identified as Manuel Felix, Daniel Romero, Males Acosta, Ignacio Monena, Jesus Virses, and R. Mersa, by their loud outcries brought mental anguish to the Talbert worshippers.

According to Deputy Sheriff Roy Ballard, who invited the boys to be the guests of Jailer Budge Lacy at the county domicile, the defendants passed the Talbert church while the congregation knelt in divine supplication.

Possessed with less reverent and more exuberant spirits, the Mexicans are said to have taken up the song—a joyful strain, lacking in the reverential qualities of the hymn, which formed a part of the rites in the church.

To make it brief, the boys "busted up" the meeting, bringing grief upon themselves. Since that time they have been languishing in the county jail, awaiting their coming before the justice today.

LEDOUX STOPS HARRISON.
LONDON, Oct. 10.—Charley Ledoux, the French fighter, tonight made Tommy Harrison, the English bantamweight champion, quit in the eighteenth round of a twenty-round bout at Henley. The fight was for the bantamweight championship of Europe.

M. F. Garland, plastering contractor, 349 N. Hesperian St., is out of the hospital following his recent injury. A 3-ton truck and an electric car failed to put him out of business. His office is still open and his crew working as usual.

STATE'S FISH CAR OPENS SEASON WORK

Orange County Will Secure Doubled Trout Allotment This Year, Plan

Freighted with a full load of steelhead and rainbow trout fry for the city water-supply reservoir-lakes of San Diego where angling on a legally recognized and regulated basis has become one of the leading outdoor sporting attractions to that section, the fish and game commission's "State Fish Car 01" passed through Santa Ana today.

Delivery was to be made at San Diego at one p. m., when the city water commission, Col. Ed Fletcher, and a number of leading volunteer sportsmen co-operators, "rounded up" by resident Deputy Webb Toms, were to meet the car with trucks, equipped to plant all this large allotment the afternoon of arrival.

Success of the experimental plantings at Cuyamaca in 1913, and the liberal policy of the San Diego water authorities in encouraging angling, have caused the fish and game commission to undertake seriously the adding of large lake-trout-fishing to the already remarkable achievements in developing black-bass in the municipal water-service of the southern city.

The fry turned off from Mount Whitney hatchery this season are the liveliest and largest reared in any of the state "fish factories." The snow-fed waters of the eastern Sierras apparently carry much in finitesimal food, contributing to the rapid growth and good health of the baby trout.

Despite all efforts to expedite the distribution this year, the railroad strike dragged it out, further increasing the heavy costs of feeding and distributing the fish, which since the curtailing of former free transportation during the war by the railroad administration have become an ever-increasing burden upon the angling-license funds. These, coming in a dollar at a time, are the sole revenue of fish-cultural work here in California. Established 15 years ago when the dollar was at par in purchasing power, the demands upon these funds are increasing far beyond the capacity to finance them.

Next week, a carload of trout-fry for Ventura county will be delivered to the Ventura game and fish association, Deputy John J. Barnett, and the upper Ventura and Sespe headwaters. The middle Sespe will be heavily planted again, likewise the Ventura and tributaries.

The Los Angeles, Riverside and Orange county allotments probably will follow late in the month. Remarkable success of the heavy San Gabriel allotments probably will be repeated this year, as it has been decided to "set out" the fish-car overnight to allow of "packing in" the load "away up."

Orange county, perforce denied the last dry years, is to have a doubled allotment this season. Another big planting is provided for Snow creek, on the north slope of San Jacinto peak. The development of this tumbling stream into one of the most popular trout-waters in the South is among the outstanding achievements of fish-cultural in the lower counties. Its maintenance against such demands as last year's will be even more remarkable.

MANY ATTEND TUTORS' RECEPTION AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 10.—More than 100 teachers and friends attended the reception given the tutors in the kindergarten room of the grammar school last night. The entertainment, primarily arranged to create a feeling of friendliness between Huntington Beach business men and the teachers in city schools, was conducted under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The spirit of Halloween prevailed amid a fiesta of safety and quieting. Secretary M. A. McCreery, of the Chamber, supervised the evening's frolic.

U. S. SUGAR EXPORTS SHOW BIG INCREASE

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The world is increasing its dependence upon the United States for refined sugar. Our exports of refined sugar in the current calendar year, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, will far exceed those of any earlier year in the history of our refining and export trade. In fact, the total quantity of refined sugar exported in the seven months of the current year for which we have now a record is greater than in any full year preceding and is thirty times as much as in the year preceding the opening of the war.

Prior to the war, says the Trade Record, when Europe was producing all of its own sugar requirements from beets, our exports of refined sugar were extremely small, amounting in the year immediately preceding the war, the calendar year 1913, to only 52,000,000 pounds with a value of less than $2,000,000. In 1914, with the war conditions which prevailed in the great beet producing area of Europe, Russia, Germany, Austria-Hungary and in a lesser degree France and Belgium, our exports of refined sugar amounted to 330,000,000 pounds, or nearly eight times as much as in the year immediately preceding its opening.

In 1915 the total advanced to 963,000,000 pounds, in 1916, 1,577,000,000, in 1917, 1,011,000,000, in 1918, 1,475,000,000 dropping to a little less than 1,000,000,000 pounds in 1920 and 1921 but enormously increasing in 1922, so that the total for the seven months for which we have now a record is three times as much as in the same period of the preceding year and actually more than in any full year since we came to the front as an exporter of refined sugar. Estimating the exports for the remainder of the calendar year upon the figures for the latest months, it seems quite apparent that our total exports in the year ending with next December will be fully two and a half billion pounds as against the former high record of one and a half billions in 1916 and 1919.

In the nine years since the beginning of the war, our exports of refined sugar have aggregated 9,371,000,000 pounds, valued at $574,000,000, while in the twenty years preceding the war the grand total was only 625,000,000 pounds, valued at $25,000,000.

WHEAT IN ADVANCE ON CHICAGO BOARD

(United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—After prevailing lower prices during most of the day's trading, grain quotations advanced on the Chicago board of trade today and closed about even with yesterday's average. Wheat, however, was substantially higher. Advances in Liverpool and fairly heavy buying at the Gulf were responsible for the upturn.

Provisions closed higher.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—With the industrial average in new high ground for the year, operation for the rise in this group went ahead with no let up in volume, although price movements were less uniform than in sessions during the last few days. Heavy profit taking appeared in stocks like Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard of California and other issues, which have been featured in the recent bullish demonstrations. On the other hand speculation in advancing prices continued unabated in several stocks, including Mexican Petroleum, Pan-American and the equipments, particularly American Locomotive.

The market closed irregular. Closing prices included: U. S. Steel 105 1/8, off 1-4; Republic 59, up 5-8; Baldwin 132 1-2, off 1-4; American Locomotive 131 1-2, up 1-4; Mexican Petroleum 132 1-2, up 1-4; Pan American 82 1-2, up 1-4; Texas company 59 3-4, up 5-8; Standard Oil of N. ## BERRIES ON DECLINE IN 'FRISCO MARKETS

(United Press Leased Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The recent rains have not yet affected the receipts in the wholesale markets except, possibly, to increase them in a few instances. Reasonably heavy deliveries of grapes, tomatoes and berries are reported, while street trading was unusually quiet.

Approximately 285 chests of berries were received by dealers today and declines took place on strawberries and raspberries. Best strawberries sold up to sixty cents per drawer, while raspberries sold slowly from 50 to 60 cents per drawer.

It is quite probable that raspberries will not clean up today and a few will go to the canners. Trading in poultry was not so active. It appears that more interest is being shown in eastern poultry, five cars of which have already arrived this week. Fancy leghorn hens are very scarce but common stock is hard to move at a reasonable figure.

Two cars of cranberries arrived today from Massachusetts.

Supplies light: Pineapples, grape fruit, oranges, lemons, plums, good celery, artichokes, cabbage, spinach, peas, lettuce, beans, summer squash, cauliflower, rhubarb, canteloupes, corn.

Supplies liberal: Bananas, figs, peaches, pears, apples, grapes, berries, potatoes, cucumbers, tomatoes, egg plant, peppers.

STRIKES CAUSE CUT IN RAIL EARNINGS

(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—A sharp drop in railroad income was caused by the shopmen's strike, according to figures made public today by the Association of Railway Executives.

Reports filed with the interstate commerce commission show that the income for August was but 2.65 percent of the class one railroads' tentative valuation, the lowest return since May 1921. August's net operating income totalled $52,579,799.

The gross revenue taken in by the railroads declined during August 6.3 per cent over August last year. A statement issued by the executives today laid this decrease at the door of the coal and shop strikers and the cut in freight rates which became effective in July.

Complete reports on the first eight months of the present year show, the executives said, that the railroads had a net operating income of $471,183,600, compared with $306,063,000 for the same period a year ago. This year's income represented a return of 4.07 per cent on the tentative valuation, an increase of nearly two per cent over the same period in 1921.

UNFILLED STEEL ORDERS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The unfilled steel tonnage, as announced by the United States Steel corporation, totalled 6,891,607 tons in September 30, an increase of 741,502 tons.

SANTA ANA AND ITS FOUNDER REMEMBERED BY BIRTHDAYS TODAY

Today was Santa Ana's birthday. The city was 53 years old. It was also the birthday of the city's founder, W. H. Spurgeon, who, had he lived, would have celebrated his 93rd natal day today.

Spurgeon died June 20, 1915. In June, 1916, he turned the first shovel of earth preparatory to the erection of the Spurgeon building.

On top of this building, the Stars and Stripes flew today, in honor of the founder of Santa Ana and of the day of its founding, October 10, 1869.

Mrs. Margaret J. Spurgeon, widow of the city's founder, lives in the Bungalow apartments, over the post office.

STATION MAN CLAIMS $20 CHECK SPURIOUS

Frank E. Walters was accused of issuing a worthless check for $20, drawn on the Fullerton National bank, in a complaint lodged against him in the district attorney's office today, by Harry Shipkey, Fullerton service station proprietor.

According to Shipkey, Walters appeared at his service station, with a roll of wire on his arm, and represented himself as an employee of the Southern California Edison company. He purchased a tire tube, ordered two tires, and then proffered the check in payment for the tube, Shipkey said.

Subsequently the check was found to be worthless, authorities declared.

EDITORS FETED AT OPENING OF FAIR

Editors of Southern California today were guests of the Southern California Fair management on the opening day of the annual fair in Riverside. Tonight they will be honored by a banquet to be held at the Mission Inn.

Friend W. Richardson, Republican nominee for governor, is expected to address the diners.

The fair exhibits are said to be more extensive than ever, and to embrace every feature of farm life activity. The live stock department, in particular, is said to exceed that of previous years.

A feature of the fair is to be a junior fair in which students of the agricultural departments of the leading high schools of the Southland will exhibit model farms and dairies.

The racing program starts each afternoon at 1 o'clock, with four events scheduled daily. The A. A. U. track meet and diving contest will be held Saturday afternoon.

The fair will officially close Sunday night.

Life Underwriters

The steady growth of the life insurance business in Orange county, attended annually by renewed success, was the subject of an interesting talk by Duggan.

The association meets monthly.

PROPOSED SCIENTIST SCHOOL NOT OF FAITH

Stating that the promoters of the plan have organized for profit and that the project has no connection with the Mother church or any of its branches in California, Douglas L. Edmonds, member of Christian Science committee on publication for Southern California, today declared that the proposed $5,000,000 university of Christ, at Fullerton, has neither the endorsement of nor connection with the First Church in Boston, Mass., or its branches in this state.

"The promoters of this plan," Edmonds said, "are endeavoring to raise money by the sale of stock for the establishment of the university which they state is to be open only to the children of Christian Scientists. However, it is only fair that the people of Santa Ana and Fullerton know that this is a private enterprise organized for profit and is not connected with or endorsed by the Christian Science movement directly or indirectly."

4 CARS DAMAGED IN COLLISIONS IN CITY

Police reports today told of two accidents in Santa Ana during the past 24 hours.

The first, rendered by Omer R. Hill, 723 East Pine street, recounted a collision in which his car, and one driven by J. R. Siddings, 7218 East Colorado street, Pasadena, figured at the intersection of First and Cedar streets yesterday. Bent fenders constituted the extent of the damage.

A collision between cars operated by Carl Bazha, 1059 Hickey street, and J. H. Ward, Santa Ana R. F. D. No. 3, at the corner of Fifth and Shelton streets last evening, was also reported. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Social Affairs for Kansas Visitor

Having joined her house guest, Mrs. David McGowan, in Los Angeles for a little week-end visit with friends, Mrs. O. K. Forgy with Mrs. McGowan returned yesterday to her home, 204 South Sycamore street.

Mrs. McGowan arrived early in August and has been the motif for many happy social affairs given both here and in Los Angeles where she has a number of friends from her home city, Newton, Kansas.

A round of luncheons, dinners, theater parties and like affairs have complimented the guests from Kansas who plans to remain at the Forgy home until October 22.

FURNITURE MEN FINISH PLANS FOR SHOWS

The furniture stores of Santa Ana today were completing arrangements to care for the large crowds that are expected to attend the furniture style show Wednesday evening. It was announced that all furniture dealers here would present special displays, featuring model rooms and latest fashions in home furnishings, in observance of whatever will be offered for sale.

National Better Homes Week.

Among those presenting special features will be the J. C. Horton Furniture company, Main and Fifth streets, where the visitors will be entertained by a concert program by the Martin orchestra. A program especially appropriate has been scheduled for Wednesday evening.

At the Spurgeon Furniture company Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, a national authority on home furnishings and decorations, will lecture, beginning at 8 o'clock. Her lecture will describe the ideal appointment for the modern American home. Mrs. Vaughn is a student of period furniture and will cover this subject in her lecture.

Her attention will also be given to the proper home environment for children.

On Wednesday evening no goods

burglar, the report indicated.

It is to be purely an "open house" occasion, arranged for the sole purpose of acquainting the general public with better things in home furnishings.

SLEEP BURGLAR NAPS ON AUTO CLUB FLOOR

The office of the Southern California Automobile club is not open as sleeping quarters for the accommodation of the public—or any part of the public.

So said Elmer Heldt, local representative, today, in commenting on a report to the police.

According to the report, someone entered the auto club office through the rear window and feasting the chill of the early autumn night, picked a soft spot in the floor and went to sleep.

Nothing was stolen by the sleep

burglar, the report indicated.

THIEF RETURNS CAR CUSHION TO OWNER BUT RETAINS TOOLS

Perhaps the cushion from the back seat of T. H. McCarter's car, wasn't soft enough—

Or perhaps, the thief who last evening pruned it from the machine, as it was parked at Spurgeon and Fourth streets, became conscious stricken.

At any rate, when McCarter today entered his car, in front of his house, 324 East Pine street, the cushion was reposing as usual in the tonneau, according to police records.

If the thief was conscious stricken, it was a slight attack, McCarter said, for he failed to return a set of tools, stolen at the same time the cushion disappeared.

it to split or break off. Co-Lo will not wash or rub off; will not injure the hair or scalp; contains neither lead nor sulphur and has no sediment.

You Can Get Co-Lo for Every Natural Shade of Hair

Prof. Austin, knowing so intimately the many peculiarities of the hair, the hair root and the scalp, found after making thousands of experiments that there was only one way to be certain of a perfect preparation to restore each original shade of hair. So after years of effort he perfected special formulae to restore the different shades of hair.

WOMEN MUST BE NATURALIZED UNDER NEW U. S. ACT

Separate Papers Required to Make Females Citizens

LAW IS MADE KNOWN

County Clerk Backs Gets Instructions from Government

Status of numbers of women in Orange county and thousands throughout the nation, as to their chances of becoming citizens of the United States is affected by a new federal law which became operative September 22 and notice of which has been received by County Clerk J. M. Backs. The new act provides specifically that the citizenship status of a married woman shall no longer follow the citizenship rights of her husband, and hereafter women must secure their own naturalization papers if they desire to become citizens.

Under the new law they are not made citizens by the order of the court which grants their husband full citizenship but they must be naturalized themselves following regular provisions of the law. On account of the importance of the provisions of the new law Clerk Backs has given out the formal statement of the Department of Labor, which follows:

New Law Operative
 "By an act of Congress approved September 22, 1922, it is provided that after that date the citizenship status of a married woman shall no longer follow that of the husband, and that thereafter a married woman shall have the privilege of becoming naturalized on her own account.

The two principal classes of married women specifically referred to in the above legislation, with the means each class must take in order to acquire American citizenship, are described below:

"1. An alien woman marrying an American citizen after the passage of the above act, or any woman whose husband is naturalized after said act.

"She may become naturalized by filing the usual petition for naturalization and complying with all requirements of the naturalization law, with the following exceptions:

"(a) No declaration of intention required.
 "(b) Only one year's continuous residence in the United States required."

BATTLE FOR GREEK THRONE IS FINALLY WON BY YOUNG DUKE

QUEEN ELIZABETH AND KING GEORGE OF GREECE

ATHENS, Oct. 10. — Persistent through many disappointments and setbacks, George, Duke of Sparta and eldest son of the former King Constantine, is at last on the throne.

And he's going to stay there— "Until the people say they want me no more," he declares.

But he hopes that day will never come, for he likes his new job better than anything else in the world. He had been after it for a long time.

Twice he was in line for it. But politics interfered and George had to take a back seat.

Following revolutionary troubles in 1917 both he and his father had to flee. George went to Rumania. His younger brother Alexander came into power.

When Alexander died in 1920 from the effects of a monkey bite, the refugees were forced to renounce all claims to the throne.

But two months later, there was another upheaval in Greece and George and Constantine were asked to return to their country.

While George was in Rumania a royal match was arranged between him and Princess Elizabeth.

They were married at Bucharest on Feb. 27, 1921. The bride was 27; the bridegroom 21.

But hard luck still pursued the prince. A few days later he was laid up with mumps which he

ORIENTAL LOVE DREAM BROKEN BY COURT

Costa Mesa Truck Farmer Sent to Leavenworth in Mann Act Case

For F. Ueyama, 47, Costa Mesa truck farmer, the cherry blossoms have wilted and died.

Ueyama, convicted in Federal Judge Bledsoe's court in Los Angeles, of violating the Mann act by taking 16-year-old Ochoe Shigaki, daughter of a second Costa Mesa agriculturalist, to Delta, Colo., was today destined to spend a year and a day in the solitude of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kans.

Thus was entered by the hard hand of fate, a tragic climax to a story of Oriental wooing—the tale of the love of a middle-aged, married man and a lass, young enough to be his daughter.

Father Forgives

Ueyama goes behind the shadow of the high walls of the federal prison; Ochoe, the almond-eyed lass who proved his undoing, returns to a stern but ever-faithful father.

Ueyama's family—they will exist, in some way, until that seemingly interminable year and a day is done, when, no doubt, the erring husband and father will be taken back and forgiven.

For several years Ueyama was a truck farmer at Costa Mesa, with a comely wife and several dark-eyed children.

Then there came into his life this pretty little lass of tender years. The charm of her youth, the mystery of her black eyes caused the 45-year-old man to forget his faithful mate—to forget the laws of his adopted country—to forget the consequences of folly.

Taking the young woman with him, he fled to Delta.

But he reckoned without the stern father of his fellow refugee.

K. Shigaki, parent of the girl, was heart-broken at his loss, and the disgrace. He sought the aid of Sheriff C. E. Jackson, who located the pair in Colorado.

After that the story is short. Federal authorities took the matter out of the hands of the county officials, and United States District Attorney Joe Burke saw the case to a successful end in Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday.

K. Shigaki, father, was happy once more. His little girl, the pride of his declining years, was at his fireside again.

Ochoe, too, was contented, if wiser. She was ready to remain under the paternal roof, as befits a child of her years.

GROWERS TOLD OF WAR AIMED AT PESTS

State Agriculturalist Discusses Orchard Problems at Banquet

With characteristic force and clearness Director George H. Hocke, of the state department of agriculture at a dinner held last night in his honor at St. Ann's inn, brought home to the walnut and citrus growers of Orange county vital facts relative to pest eradication.

Faced with the problem of controlling the costly activities of predatory insects within the county, the department of agriculture is working with local organizations to prevent the introduction of foreign pests by an intensive plant quarantine program.

This is being brought about by a number of forces working in harmony, the co-operation among county, state and federal bureaus resulting in close inspection and prompt extermination.

When Director Hocke came to Southern California from London about thirty years ago there was an annual shipment of 2,500 cars of citrus fruits, a large part of which was unassimilated by the Eastern markets. In substance he said:

Citrus Growth Recounted
 "In those thirty years the entire history of the citrus industry is told. The high degree of development in citrus growing has been reached only by painstaking steps through a field that has been, to many, unexplored.

"Meeting obstacles that threatened the life of the industry with determined efforts and scientific research, the growers of the county have passed through many situations filled with danger. There are others fast developing.

"Introduction of foreign pests in shipments of fruits and vegetables from outside points is being watched with a degree of apprehension. Pests that are not considered such in their native climates may become dangerous upon reaching and developing under California conditions.

Inspection Is Necessary
 "On the other hand, costly pests from outside points may become impotent or in some instances fail to survive long trips and changed climatic conditions.

There is a chance that no harm would result from permitting shipments from these points to speak of home and mother, nature, love and hope. They have a power to transport an earth-weary soul into a state of better things, rest and beautiful memories."

ART GREATER THAN GOVERNMENTS SAYS DANCING EXPONENT

ISADORA DUNCAN

MUSIC PATRONS ARE EAGER TO HEAR SINGER

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Isadora Duncan, high priestess of a school of dancing all her own, is the first person who has come out of Russia and hasn't talked about one or all of these topics: Bolshevik politics; commercial treaties; Red propaganda; paper money; Lenin; Trotsky; food.

Miss Duncan (whose married name is Mrs. Serge Yessenin, though she doesn't use it much) talked about these subjects:

Art; the soul of the Russian people; idiotic movies; her husband (whom she calls by his last name, pronounced Esane); Ellis Island officials who keep their hats on and talk through their noses; Walt Whitman; Russia's intellectual wealth; horrid persons who imitate her dancing without understanding what it is all about.

Working It Three Ways
 Wearing her famous flowing red hair and little else but a flowing ankle-length tunic of crimson, Miss Duncan talked in three languages at once, and nimbly did her own interpreting. Thus:

"Da!" she said to her husband, who is Russian.

"Quil!" she said to her secretary, who is French.

"Yes!" she said to her interviewer, who understands English.

Fresh from Ellis Island, where the immigrant officials grilled her on her dancing and her interest in Bolshevism (which she denied), Miss Duncan said the following things in rapid succession:

"Yes, I am a Communist—in spirit. Like Walt Whitman. Not politically."

"I was in Russia to establish a children's school of dancing. I didn't mix in Russian politics. I am interested only in art. Art is greater than governments."

"I want to start a dancing school in America. By music and the dance I want to train children how to live. I don't want

INSIDE BEAUTY OF HOME NOT ALWAYS AN EXPENSIVE LUXURY

Authority Discusses Details That Figure In Making Interior Pretty

Why does interior decoration usually mean large expenditures? The services of an intelligent and informed interior decorator is the one sure means of preventing the useless and sometimes unwise expenditures of money in furnishing a home. A decorator does not always suggest a complete renewing or refurnishing of a home. He detects what annoys you and destroys your delight in what you felt would be perfection of detail when you toiled wearily about the shops making your selections, without trained judgment of the fundamentals of the thing you were doing.

A decorator is the sure means of solving the riddle of what it is that is wrong, from what comes that jarring note of inharmoniousness that annoys, yet evades your detection. Harmony of line, harmony of colors and of design employed in textiles, and the harmony or affinity of textures upon which so much depends in creating harmony of the entire establishment, are the keynote upon which the decorator plays to produce the result.

Furniture Not Cure
 It is not always the complete refurnishing of a house that is its cure; just the elimination of the unnecessary things, the refurnishing of the furniture, the removal of some monstrous piece of carving, a few good lights and the magic is done.

A good decorator is also a good character student and cleverly arranges a more becoming and impressive background for you than you could for yourself. I said a good decorator—that is, an artist and one who loves the work. Not a seller of merchandise, alone. A decorator might be called a diagnostician of sick houses, bringing harmony where inharmonious was.

Harmony of line, harmony of colors, harmony of textures are the primary things to be considered in furnishing a home. The harmony of lines in the chairs, tables, pictures, frames, the lines of the draperies. All of these must repeat and be of the same line but not of a monotonous repetition of mere line. This includes the floor coverings and the designs therein as well as the design of the wall coverings and those in the draperies if the types with a design are used. These must be true to scale of room size, the size of the furniture.

Men are Dressing Better Says Local Clothing Man

M. KARP HAS SEEN GREAT INCREASE IN TAILORING BUSINESS IN THE PAST FEW YEARS—
SAYS MEN ARE LEARNING

That a New Store Building will be Erected Soon as a Result of His Increasing Business, is Expected as an Early Announcement—Well Known Lines Make Friends for the Store

"I would rather sell one suit that is so good that the customer will come back for more than to sell half a dozen suits of questionable character," remarked M. Karp, proprietor of the Chicago Clothing Store, 207 East Fourth Street.

Karp has carried this same idea out in stocking his store with merchandise, it is declared, selecting only such lines as can be depended upon to bring the customers back.

If the records of the Chicago Clothing Store can be taken as a general indication of conditions, "tailored to measure" clothes have grown rapidly in popularity in the past few years. "Eight years ago, when I took the M. Born Company tailoring service into the store, the man who had his suits made to order was an exception. Only a few suits were sold from the line each season for the first few years. Now we are selling around two hundred suits each season and the business is growing in volume right along. "The M. Born Co. line was just as good eight years ago as it is today," Karp continued. "The reason it was not more popular then is that people had not heard about it. Now practically everybody knows the reputation of this famous tailoring firm and naturally, the business is growing. The fine thing about this trade is that customers keep coming back season after season for more of the same kind of clothing."

Has Outgrown Quarters The Chicago Clothing Store is one of the Santa Ana firms whose business is demanding larger quarters. M. Karp has had plans for a new building well developed for several months. Early in the year he had intended to start operations on a new store building, but conditions arose which influenced him to wait a few months. The plan announced was to add one story to the present building, at 207 East Fourth St., and extend the structure back several feet to cover the entire lot. It is expected that definite plans will be announced in the near future.

Prominent Lines Featured In his business in Santa Ana, Karp has surrounded himself with a number of well known, dependable lines of merchandise—goods that he can bank on as to quality and service—and by making good all claims he has built up a steadily increasing trade. Such lines as the Weynburg and Star Brand shoes are sold and guaranteed. Outwest and Hendan dress shirts also get their share of attention. Big Yank and Milton Goodman work garments of all kinds and Bear Brand hosiery are among the well known lines offered in the Karp store. Other good things sold in the store are Glasstebury wool underwear, Wright Health Underwear, Coopers and Lawrence underwear. But now that the fall season has arrived, special attention is being given the tailoring department, with the object of setting a high record for the store.

A UNION OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Healthy Housewife--Happy Home

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done.

Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that makes their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them--let it help you.

Had Nervous Spells
Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my mother-in-law persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."—Mrs. JIM REARICK, Horatio, Arkansas.

Reading, Pa.—"I was a nervous wreck and could hardly do my housework. I always had to have help or I would never have got it done. Through the advice of friends I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my nerves and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine for my blood and I am feeling fine and doing my work all alone. I can recommend these medicines to any one, for they certainly helped me. I suffered for five years and Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines pulled me through."—Mrs. WALTER U. STROYER, 1213 Mulberry St., Reading, Pa.

Recommend the Vegetable Compound

New Orleans, La.—"I have found relief from my troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I praise it wherever I go. I could not do my work as it should be done for I would sometimes have to lie down because of the pains I had. A friend induced me to take your Vegetable Compound and I have got great results from it. I keep house and am able to do all my own work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine."—Mrs. T. FOCKLER, 1916 N. Desbigny St., New Orleans, La.

THE FLAMING JEWEL

—BY— Robert W. Chambers

(Copyright, 1922, George H. Doran Company)

It was

QUINTANA and his band of international thieves who first stole that priceless gem, the Flaming Jewel, from the

COUNTESS OF ESTHONIA. For love of the now beggared countess,

JAMES DARRAGH sought the gem and traced it to the disreputable "hotel" in the Adirondacks owned by

MIKE CLINCH. Under the name of HAL SMITH, Darragh works at the Clinch hotel, where he meets Clinch's stepdaughter, the beautiful EVE STRAYER, the one great influence for good in the career of Clinch. Then Quintana and his gang appeared in the vicinity, and both Clinch and Darragh knew they would stop at nothing to regain the loot filched from the royal casket.

Go On With the Story

EPISODE THREE

On Star Peak

CHAPTER I

Mike Clinch regarded the jewels take from Jose Quintana as legitimate loot acquired in war.

He was prepared to kill anybody who attempted to take the gem from him.

At the very possibility his ruling passion blazed—his mania to make of Eve Strayer a grand lady.

But now, what he had feared for years had happened. Quintana had found him—Quintana, after all these years, had discovered the identity and dwelling place of the obscure American soldier who had robbed him in the washroom of a Paris cafe. And Quintana was now in America, here in this wilderness, tracking the man who had despoiled him.

Clinch, in his shirt-sleeves, carrying a rifle, came out on the log veranda and sat down to think it over.

He began to realize that he was likely to have trouble with a man as cold-blooded and as dogged as himself.

Nor did he doubt that those with Quintana were desperate men.

On whom could he count? On nobody unless he paid their hire. None among the lawless men who haunted his backwoods "hotel" would be the goal for Quintana and his gang. And for Smith, too, if ever temptation overpowered him. The house was liable to an attempt at robbery any night, now—and day, perhaps. It was no place for the packet he had taken from Jose Quintana.

Eve came in wearing gray shirt, breeches, and puttees. Clinch gave her the packet.

"What's in it, dad?" she asked smilingly.

"Don't you get nosy, girlie. Come here."

She went to him. He put his left arm around her.

"You like me some, don't you, girlie?"

"You know it, dad."

"All right. You're all that matters to me . . . since your mother went and died . . . after a year . . . That was cruel, girlie. Only a year. Well, I ain't cared none for nobody since—only you, girlie."

He touched the packet with his finger.

"I step out, that's yours. But I ain't going to step out. Put it with the nootch. You know how to move the nootch. You know how to move that keystone?"

"Yes, dad."

"And watch out that no game protector and none of that damn millionaire's warden see you in the woods. No, nor none of these here fancy State Troopers. You gotta watch the time, Eve. It means everything to me—to you, girlie—and to me. Go tiptoe. Lay low, coming and going. Take a rifle."

Eve ran to her bed-room and returned with her Winchester and belt.

"You shoot to kill," said Clinch grimly. "If anyone wants to stop you, but lay low and you won't need to shoot nobody, girlie. G'wan out the back way; Hal's in the ice house."

water again: "You'd better tell somebody if you go gunning for Quintana."

"Did I ask your advice?"

"You did not," said the young man, smiling.

"All right. Mind your business."

Smith got up from the water's edge with his pan of trout:

"That's what I shall do, Mike," he said, laughing. "So go on with your private war; it's no button of mine. Quintana gets you."

He went away toward the ice-house with the trout. Eve Strayer, doing chamber work, watched the young man from an upper room.

The girl's instinct was to like Smith—but that very instinct aroused her distrust. What was a man of his breeding and education doing at Clinch's dump? Why was he content to hang around and do chores? A man of his type who has gone crooked enough to stick up a tourist in an automobile nourishes higher—though probably perverted—ambitions than a dollar a day and board.

She heard Clinch's light step on the inheaped stair: went on making up Smith's bed; and smiled as her stepfather came in to the room, still carrying his rifle.

He had something else in his hand, too—a flat, thin packet wrapped in heavy paper and sealed all over with black wax.

"Girlie," he said, "I want you should do a little errand for me this morning. If you're s'pry it won't take long—time to go there and get back to help with dinner."

"Very well, dad."

"Go get your pants on, girlie."

"You want me to go into the woods?"

"I want you to go to the hole in the rocks under Star Peak and lay this packet in the 'hooch cache.'"

She nodded, tucked in the sheets, smoothed blanket and pillow with deft hands, went out to her own room. Clinch seated himself and turned a blank face to the window.

Was a sudden decision. He realized now that he couldn't keep the jewels in his house. War was on with Quintana. The "hotel" would be the goal for Quintana and his gang. And for Smith, too, if ever temptation overpowered him. The house was liable to an attempt at robbery any night, now—and day, perhaps. It was no place for the packet he had taken from Jose Quintana.

"I want you to go to the hole in the rocks under Star Peak and lay this packet in the 'hooch cache.'"

She nodded, tucked in the sheets, smoothed blanket and pillow with deft hands, went out to her own room. Clinch seated himself and turned a blank face to the window.

Was a sudden decision. He realized now that he couldn't keep the jewels in his house. War was on with Quintana. The "hotel" would be the goal for Quintana and his gang. And for Smith, too, if ever temptation overpowered him. The house was liable to an attempt at robbery any night, now—and day, perhaps. It was no place for the packet he had taken from Jose Quintana.

Eve came in wearing gray shirt, breeches, and puttees. Clinch gave her the packet.

"What's in it, dad?" she asked smilingly.

"Don't you get nosy, girlie. Come here."

She went to him. He put his left arm around her.

"You like me some, don't you, girlie?"

"You know it, dad."

"All right. You're all that matters to me . . . since your mother went and died . . . after a year . . . That was cruel, girlie. Only a year. Well, I ain't cared none for nobody since—only you, girlie."

He touched the packet with his finger.

"I step out, that's yours. But I ain't going to step out. Put it with the nootch. You know how to move the nootch. You know how to move that keystone?"

"Yes, dad."

"And watch out that no game protector and none of that damn millionaire's warden see you in the woods. No, nor none of these here fancy State Troopers. You gotta watch the time, Eve. It means everything to me—to you, girlie—and to me. Go tiptoe. Lay low, coming and going. Take a rifle."

Eve ran to her bed-room and returned with her Winchester and belt.

"You shoot to kill," said Clinch grimly. "If anyone wants to stop you, but lay low and you won't need to shoot nobody, girlie. G'wan out the back way; Hal's in the ice house."

BEACH AWARDS $76,034 IN CONTRACTS

(Special to The Register)

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 10. Contracts totaling $76,034.36 for the construction, plumbing, heating and wiring of Huntington Beach's new city hall and auditorium were awarded at last night's meeting of the board of trustees. Clark Brothers, Los Angeles, were the successful bidders for the building of the structure, whose bids for $44,199 for the city hall, and $21,198 for the auditorium were accepted. Other bids approved by the trustees were:

Ed. Manning, Huntington Beach, plumbing city hall, $4,540; heating city hall, $1,848; and plumbing auditorium, $1,497.

Woodall-Patton, electrical contractors of Los Angeles, $2,299, wiring city hall; and R. E. McIntosh, Huntington Beach, $1,453.36, wiring of auditorium.

Tentative plans to ask the voters to approve an additional bond issue aggregating approximately $20,000 in order to carry out this building program according to first specifications, were abandoned by the trustees last night. Instead of further burdening the taxpayers, they decided to hush the specifications to conform with the original issue of $95,000, hence the award of contracts below that amount last night.

Following the settlement of their building problems, the trustees took action transferring the leasehold by George Kinsley to the fishing tackle building at the end of the pier to F. S. Dolk. Dolk conducts similar establishments at Long Beach and Santa Monica, and the trustees felt that his seniority in experience thus gained would result in a more advantageous conduct of the local establishment.

The petition of Howard Smith to erect a gasoline filling station at Eleventh and Orange streets was referred to Fire Chief Kinsley for action.

CLAMOR TO HEAR BOY EVANGELIST CAUSES ADDED MEETING TIME

With 700 names now on the prayer cards, and with the crowds ever increasing in daily attendance at the First Baptist church evangelistic services, a decision was reached today by "Dad" Taylor, father of Charles Forbes Taylor, the boy evangelist, to add afternoon meetings to the program. The first of the afternoon sessions was to begin at 3 p. m. today.

These afternoon sessions are to be devoted, according to the plans, to the chapters in the life of "Dad" Taylor.

Tonight the boy preacher will talk on "What Can a Man Believe?"

The first story of the elder Taylor's life dealt with his ten years gospel preaching and singing in the markets of Yorkshire. He sold 130,000 Testaments before he was twenty years of age.

He will tell more of his experience tomorrow at 3 p. m.

He leads the prayer meeting every evening at 7 o'clock at which time he gives a remarkable illustration of answered prayer. This meeting has been moved to the junior room down stairs, the other being too small to accommodate the crowd.

WORK ON BUILDING IS ORDERED STAYED

FULLERTON, Oct. 10.—Upon orders from Building Inspector E. S. Richman, work on the construction of a portion of the new Chapman building at Spadra and Wilshire avenues, was ordered stopped today.

The order issued by the city building department came as a result of a complaint made by Peter Schumacher, whose wife owns the adjoining property on Spadra road, the complaint being to the effect that the workmen had loosened a part of the foundation of the Schumacher property.

'HOOTCH' CAUSES MAN WHILE SOUND ASLEEP TO DISCOMPOSE PEACE

John Moreno, Anaheim, today found himself in jail at Uplands minus his own machine, in possession of that of another man, and with a new record case in police court annals. He was held on a charge of disturbing the peace while asleep.

According to reports from Uplands, he recalls leaving Anaheim yesterday in his own machine and of visiting a "blind pig" in the Etiwanda district.

He was found Sunday night asleep in a machine standing by the side of the street. The engine was running idle at full speed for the sleeping man had his foot resting on the foot throttle. As the machine was not in motion and no one could be found who had seen him operating the car on the road, a charge of driving a machine while under the influence of liquor could not be filed.

He does not know where he left his auto nor how he came in possession of the one in which he was found asleep.

He also is minus $25 in cash he claims he had when he left Anaheim.

PETITION TO 'RECALL' MAYOR GAINS NAMES

LONG BEACH, Oct. 10.—Sixteen additional names were added to the recall petition directed against City Manager Charles E. Hewes today bringing the total to 1128.

Say that health and wealth have missed me;

SANTA ANA'S BIRTHDAY

"What is Santa Ana's population today?" This question, asked by every newcomer, by visitors from nearby cities, and frequently by ourselves, is particularly pertinent today, the fifty-third anniversary of the founding of Santa Ana.

It is a question that is susceptible of interesting conjecture. Figurers figure and guessers guess, and any of us can name the number of thousands we think are now residing in the city limits. No census has been taken since January, 1920. At that time the federal report listed our population as 15,485. Since then more than two and a half years have gone by and another federal census is not due until 1930, unless congress decides that hereafter a census shall be taken every five years. That two and a half years has been a period of rapid advancement in this city, a period of steady growth. The year 1922 has developed a building pace fifty per cent more rapid than was the pace in 1921. The average number of permits for construction in Santa Ana since January 1, 1922, has been 125 a month. Attendance at schools, the number of new water taps installed, the number of gas and electric connections made, postal receipts—there are many criterions to go by in judging the city's population.

After checking over the various items that might be useful in judging growth, the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has come to the conclusion that it is safe in declaring Santa Ana's population today to be 25,000. Even if we cut that figure 1,000 we find the city having made an increase of about sixty per cent since January, 1920.

And in this regard, we found it interesting to look up the figures for Santa Ana's population as given by each official census since the townsite was laid out in a mustard-covered, sycamore-dotted plain in 1869, by William H. Spurgeon. The purchase, made fifty-three years ago today, was followed by platting of the townsite. Ed Tedford, today a well known citizen of this city and for many years its city clerk, then but a boy, carried chain for the surveyor who set the stakes. In lieu of census figures for 1870, we quote Mr. Tedford:

"There was nobody living inside the townsite in January, 1870, when the census would have been taken. At that time Mr. Spurgeon was living with us at what is now called Greenville. In 1870 the survey was made, the Spurgeon store was built and Robert English came here and built the first house in Santa Ana. It still stands on Sycamore street south of the fire house."

There is an official report for Santa Ana for the year 1880. The federal census for that year gave the population of the village as 711.

Then came a decade of rapid development. Vineyards and orchards were set out; the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company was delivering water to orchards to the north and east; there was a boom in California real estate; the fertility of the Santa Ana valley was gaining fame. In ten years, Santa Ana's population gained more than 500 per cent, for the 1890 census gave the population as 3,628.

The ten years that followed, in the main, were years of struggle. The vineyards had been wiped out by disease, the depression following the boom had settled like a pall; orange, lemon and walnut growers were unorganized and at the mercy of speculators.

But there was no going back in Santa Ana. Though advancement was slow, there was an increase; the 1900 census was 4,933.

Then, during the next decade, Santa Ana began to forge ahead. Organization began solving marketing problems; the natural advantages of the valley aided in its development; Easterners began to come in more rapidly than had been the case in years. When the census of 1910 was taken, the report showed Santa Ana's population to be 8,429. This was declared at the time to have been an undercount, for a population of 11,000 had been confidently counted upon.

The impetus of this decade reached into the next, and the slow, steady growth continued until the latter part of the ten-year period brought to Santa Ana a more rapid growth, in percentage, than it had had since the period of 1880-1890. Much of the gain shown by the census of 1920, which gave this city 15,485, came during the years 1918 and 1919.

The census figures for 1920 were frowned upon, as were the figures for 1910, as not having been complete. Santa Anans felt that the population was at least 17,000. However, they stand on the records as 15,485, and we are satisfied that it should be so, for the question as to what the population was in 1920 is not nearly so interesting today as is the question quoted at the opening of this editorial.

And today, just as William H. Spurgeon viewed the future when he bought the seventy-six acres that made the original townsite, just as the pioneers of 1880 and 1890 and the residents here in 1900 and 1910 and 1920 looked ahead with unbounded faith in the future of Santa Ana, so today do we look forward always toward a bigger and better Santa Ana, with an unbounded faith in its destiny.

JUSTICE IS DELAYED

It is discouraging to learn that the Supreme Court of the United States, beginning its fall term, faces a docket of 650 cases, which it cannot possibly get through with in less than two years. This means that any new case must wait two years or more for a hearing.

It should be remembered, too, that lawsuits do not come directly to the Supreme Court. Most of the cases arriving there have had a lengthy history already. As a result of trials and retrials and appeals, it may be four or five years from the inception of a lawsuit to its final determination by the highest court. "Justice delayed is justice denied." The involuntary denial of justice in this way is acknowledged to be due to two causes.

First, there is the fact, attested by former Justice Clarke, that a great many of the cases carried to the Supreme Court have no business there, involving as they do merely routine questions that could easily be decided by the lower courts. "Fighting a case through to the highest court" has become a vice in American jurisprudence. As a result, the highest state and federal courts are so overburdened with petty business that they cannot do justice to the more important matters.

All of the courts are clogged with cases, but the highest courts, which should be most free, are clogged the worst. And this evil seems to be due mainly to the laxity with which retrials and appeals are granted, for slight cause or petty technicalities, in the lower courts.

It was to seek a remedy for this slowing down of American judicial machinery that Chief Justice Taft recently went to England, where our fundamental law originated, and where court business admittedly is handled with far more expedition. Something ought to come from Mr. Taft's efforts.

AN ENDURING MONUMENT

When Hiram W. Johnson, as governor of California, created the State Industrial Accident Commission and had the Workmen's Compensation act placed on the statutes he was denounced as a "destroyer of industry" and a "looter of business." Today, every intelligent citizen looks upon these humanitarian acts of his as blessings to the state.

An example of the beneficial results of these acts is the state aid given the families and dependents of the forty-seven miners who met death in the Argonaut mine disaster. Approximately $100,000 will be paid out of the Compensation Insurance fund to the tragedy-stricken dependents of the Argonaut victims. They are but a few of thousands of men and women who toil who have been benefited under the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation law.

The State Industrial Insurance fund, created with $100,000 loaned by the state, has a surplus of $3,000,000. California is well able to do her just duty to the working men and women who are injured or incapacitated and to the dependents of those who die in the performance of their work, as did the miners of the Argonaut.

Hiram Johnson's humanitarian labors in the halls of legislation in Sacramento and Washington are an enduring monument to his name.

There Is Just One Question

San Bernardino Sun

William J. Bryan is always entertaining. No man could have held the place in public life which has been his for 30 years without the ability to please and to instruct, to furnish information and to stir action, and it is in the interest of an aroused California that the distinguished Nebraskan yesterday addressed 3000 or 4000 San Bernardino people, and told them that if they vote against the Wright enforcement act, they list themselves with the lawless.

Mr. Bryan told a story which illustrates the result which he always hopes to achieve as a speaker. It runs back into the classics, and compares Cicero and Demosthenes as orators. "When the people heard Cicero, they said: 'How wonderful Cicero's speech,' and when they heard Demosthenes, they said: 'Let us go against Philip.'" One pleased them with his figures of speech, the other stirred them to action, and it was the Demosthenes style of oratory that Mr. Bryan used yesterday, for he shamed San Bernardino county voters by telling them that 7000 who were registered in 1920 failed to go to the polls, while of those who did vote on the head of the ticket, 2700 of them neglected to vote on prohibition. And his message was particularly an appeal to dry voters to go to the polls, and to vote on the Wright law when they get there.

Because the Wright law is merely law-enforcement, he emphasized the fact that if people who do not like the Volstead law oppose its enforcement, others who do not like the law against stealing may with equal justice oppose its enforcement, or once the people of the nation head away from law enforcement, there is no limit to where it may carry them.

And that is the only thing that is involved in the support of the Wright act, which has been passed in substantially the same form by two California legislatures. It makes the Volstead law, a federal statute, the law of the state, and makes it the duty of local officers to enforce it. Therefore when the voter casts his ballot against the Wright act, he actually votes to refuse enforcement of a federal statute, based on a constitutional amendment ratified by 46 of the 48 states of the Union.

The question involved is not whether one favors the policy of prohibition. It is a question as to whether one favors the law or stands for lawlessness. There is a legal way and a constitutional way to overturn prohibition, if the voters of the country wish to do so. There have been at least indications that a very large minority, which might possibly be a majority, favors some modifications, although the probabilities are that it is only the reaction that might have been expected. But if there is such a majority, it will find a legal way to assert itself and a constitutional means of expressing its opinion. In other words, if there is a majority of the voters of the country who want wine and beer they will elect a Congress that will pry up the bars and let beer and wine in. Our own judgment is that such a majority will never be sent to congress, and that the ambition of the wets is a vain hope. But even for them the way to accomplish what they want is not by tearing down respect for law. California is one of the two states in the Union which has not passed an act to hold up the hands of the federal government in its enforcement of prohibition. That is no enviable position for the Golden State to occupy. It can escape it gracefully by giving the Wright act a majority in November.

It's a Great Question

San Bernardino Sun

Only a few days more and the important business of knowing whether Mr. McGraw and his associates or Mr. Huggins and his staff of artists are the premiers of baseball will have been adjudicated. The issue which draws the earnest attention of more Americans than any other will be laid tenderly away to be resurrected next spring for another summer of precisely the same struggle. In the interim, the complexion of the national government for the next two years will have been determined though it will not occupy the absorbing attention that must now be given the World's Series.

Baseball has been called the national game although it would be much more pertinent to call it the national safety valve. It is the outlet for emotions of a vast number of Americans who must take their sport and their pleasures vicariously. It is the national proof that selfishness is not one of our besetting sins, although the proportion that falls to get excited over baseball has difficulty in comprehending the emotions of those who do. The fan cannot understand why there lives a man with soul so dead that he is not vitally interested in determining which New York team happens to be the better. He who is not a fan is equally unable to comprehend what difference it should make to anybody to learn which of these aggregations of athletes is the more skillful.

But baseball has the one advantage to those in its immediate terrain. It means fresh air and sunshine for the fans, surcease for an hour or two from the cares of daily routine. To the fan at a distance from the scenes of hostilities it means something less. However, his particular brand of insanity is harmless and therefore beneficial since it seems probable he would be insane about something, in any event.

Women Believe In Home-Owning

Who is the home builder? Women are the real home builders, and through its women can the nation develop spiritually, can it be brought to final happiness and prosperity.

Over America is spreading a vast campaign, a splendid, imaginative, far-sighted movement towards better homes. And this week, in every city in the whole of this great country, women are stock-taking; they are responding, as true women always will, to a call for better things; they are thinking of homes, talking of them; realizing that, although "jazz and gab" are all right in moderation, one cannot build a great nation, or keep a nation great, unless the foundation is strong.

And the foundation of a nation, the cornerstone of its greatness, is in its homes and its home life.

Having this in mind, women are devoting more time, more care, more thought to the arrangement, the atmosphere of their homes.

Do you understand the psychology of it?

Do you understand that a rented furnished apartment will never give you the satisfaction of a "real home of your own?"

"No man ever fought for a boarding house," said Herbert Hoover with deep significance.

And this question of home-owning is such a big thing in Better Homes Week that no one can neglect its consideration.

Worth While Verse

From far and lonely bivouacs of the night
There fell the challenge that the crickets cry;
And now the expectant maples stir and sigh;
Green hills assemble; and behold! the light
Spreads out a sheaf of arrows keen and bright,
And flings his banners to the gladdening sky;
White conqueror is he; before him fly
Grim myrmidons of darkness and affright.

White conqueror is he; his arrows stirred,
Yet did not wound, the warm heart of the rose;
He wove enchantment round the mockingbird,
Till all the air grew vibrant as a lyre;
He touched a soul that slept, and lo! it glows
With love, with duty, and divine desire.

The Enchanted Forest

By Berton Braley

They say that the Forest of Arden is peopled with Youth alone! When the arteries start to harden, When grizzled the hair has grown.

No more in these haunts of wonder Shall you wander the pathways sweet, No more shall you saunter under The shade where the branches meet.

But, the Forest was made for lovers, And there is no age to love, And the same enchantment hovers In the heart and spirit of Whoever still knows the glory Which glows in his loved one's eyes.

And the thrill of the old, old story The spell of which never dies. They say—and their words are truthful— That the Forest of Arden's made For those who are blithe and youthful To linger beneath its shade; But you shall find gray-haired sages

Its dells and its glens among, For lovers may be all ages But loves is forever young. (Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

VALENTINO'S SALARY.

Does Rudolph Valentino really get a salary of $3000 a week as champion he-vamp of the movies?

His attorney, Arthur Butler Graham, says: "He's not getting anything like that; $3000 divided by three would be more like it."

While even $1000 a week seems like a fair salary to the average person, Dow Jones financial agency estimates that Henry Ford's income this year will be $75,000,000, or nearly 1500 times as much as Valentino.

Adventures of The Twins

Witch Aids Light Fingers

By Olive Roberts Barton

Light fingers was as cross as 40 bears when the Twins got away in the magic automobile out of the fog he had dumped down on them.

"Oh, you're no good at helping," he growled to Comet-Legs as he hopped off the star the two of them had been riding. "I can think of more things by myself. Goodbye!"

He waved his hand and jumped down to the earth and hunted up the Sour Old Witch who lived in under a waterfall. Twelve Toes, his master, for fear of getting another scolding. You see, it was Twelve Toes who had ordered Light Fingers to stop the Twins and get the magic automobile. He wanted it for himself.

Well, Light Fingers had done everything he could, but it was of no use. The Twins were chug-chugging back to the Fairy Queen's palace at that very moment as fast as they could go. So off he hiked to the Sour Old Witch under the waterfall, just as I told you. "Greetings, son," she cackled when she saw him coming. "Waste no words for I already know you're trouble. You should have come to me sooner."

"I'll help you stop the Twins and get the magic automobile for Twelve Toes, your master. He is an old friend of mine, you know, and I'm glad to help him. I ask no reward except that you take me for a ride on each of my birthdays which come every hundred years."

"That's just fine," said Light Fingers happily. "I'll speak to him about the rides. And now what can I do?"

The Sour Old Witch reached into her deep pocket and took out an egg.

"Break this in the path of the Twins!" she cackled, "and instantly a stone wall will appear. So high and so wide, they will never get over it!"

Light Fingers thanked her, took the egg and flew off.
